CompuGroup Medical appoints Thorsten Herrmann to head the German business

Koblenz – CompuGroup Medical, one of the world’s leading e-health companies, has appointed Thorsten Herrmann as Managing Director for its German home and core market, effective April 1, 2026. Thorsten Herrmann brings 30 years of leadership experience in the IT industry, most recently as Country Leader Germany and Senior Vice President Technology at U.S.-based Oracle. Previously, the expert in complex sales strategies, digital transformation and partner ecosystem development held roles including Managing Director and General Manager for Microsoft Germany, as well as Vice President and Managing Director at Hewlett Packard Enterprise. In his new role, Thorsten Herrmann will be responsible for all customer segments of CGM’s German business. This includes not only healthcare providers such as doctors’ and dentists’ practices, hospitals and pharmacies, but also the health insurance and industry business. The graduate in business informatics began his career at IBM.

Prof. (apl.) Dr. med. Daniel Gotthardt, CEO of CompuGroup Medical, emphasizes: “With Thorsten Herrmann, we are gaining a leader with many years of experience in international technology corporations. His deep understanding of technology and sales processes will help us integrate CGM’s innovative, AI-supported solutions even more rapidly into the daily care workflows of our customers. In doing so, we are making an important contribution to shaping the digital future of healthcare. At the same time, this is a vital step in our transformation of putting our customers even more at the center of everything that we do.”

Thorsten Herrmann says: “I am very much looking forward to my new role at CompuGroup Medical. The company has a unique position; its systems for doctors, dentists, hospitals and pharmacies have been setting standards for many years. Together with my team, I want to help ease the daily workload of healthcare professionals so they can provide even better care to their patients. I look forward to engaging in close and direct dialog with many of CGM’s current and future customers.”
